FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS, AND RECOMMENDATION OF THE UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Petitioner Larry Darnell Price, Jr., a Texas prisoner, was convicted of aggravated sexual assault and sentenced to life imprisonment. See State v. Price, No. F11-30771-P (203d Jud. Dist. Ct., Dall. Cnty., Tex. Apr. 6, 2012), aff'd as modified, No. 05-12-00552-CR, 2013 WL 6244542 (Tex. App. – Dallas Dec. 3, 2013, pet. ref'd). The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals denied his state habeas application without written order on the findings of the trial court. See Ex parte Price, No. WR- 81,918-01 (Tex. Crim. App. June 16, 2014). And another judge of this Court denied Price's initial 28 U.S.C. § 2254 application for a writ of habeas corpus as to this conviction as procedurally barred in 2016. See Price v. Davis, No. 3:15-cv-1760-G-BF, 2016 WL 6581245 (N.D. Tex. Oct. 12, 2016), rec. accepted, 2016 WL 6565855 (N.D. Tex. Nov. 2, 2016).

Price returns to federal court with a Notice of Motion to Vacate Judgment, directed at this state criminal judgment. See Dkt. No. 3. This filing was correctly construed as a Section 2254 petition. United States District Judge Jane J. Boyle referred this federal habeas application to the undersigned United States magistrate judge for pretrial management under 28 U.S.C. § 636(b) and a standing order of reference. And the undersigned enters these findings of fact, conclusions of law, and recommendation that, because the Court lacks jurisdiction to consider the successive petition, this action should be transferred to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit for appropriate action.

“A state prisoner is entitled to one fair opportunity to seek federal habeas relief from his conviction. But he may not usually make a ‘second or successive habeas corpus application.’” Banister v. Davis, 140 S. Ct. 1698, 1702 (2020) (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)). As such, Section 2244

lays out the requirements for filing successive petitions, serving as gate-keeper by preventing the repeated filing of habeas petitions that attack the prisoner’s underlying conviction. The statute does not define “second or successive,” however, and we have made clear that a petition is not “second or successive” merely because it is numerically second.

Later habeas petitions attacking the same judgment that was attacked in a prior petition tend to be labeled successive and must meet the standards for authorization under § 2244. In contrast, later habeas petitions attacking distinct judgments, administration of an inmate’s sentence, a defective habeas proceeding itself, or some other species of legal error – when the error arises after the underlying conviction – tend to be deemed non-successive. In essence, if the purported defect existed, or the claim was ripe, at the time of the prior petition, the later petition is likely to be held successive even if the legal basis for the attack was not. If, however, the purported defect did not arise, or the claim did not ripen, until after the conclusion of the previous petition, the later petition based on that defect may be non-successive.

Leal Garcia v. Quarterman, 573 F.3d 214, 220, 222 (5th Cir. 2009) (footnotes omitted).

Price previously exercised his “one fair opportunity to seek federal habeas relief from [this] conviction,” Banister, 140 S. Ct. at 1702. And his current petition raises defects in this conviction that “existed ... at the time of the [first federal] petition ... even if the legal basis for the [current] attack[s were] not” known to Price when he filed the initial Section 2254 action. Leal Garcia, 573 F.3d at 222; see also Ramos v. Davis, 653 F. App’x 359, 364 (5th Cir. 2016) (per curiam) (“Where a petitioner seeks ‘to add a new ground for relief’ that was or could have been raised in an earlier federal habeas application” – including a claim of actual innocence – a court “must treat it as a second or successive habeas petition.” (quoting Williams v. Thaler, 602 F.3d 291, 305 (5th Cir. 2010) (citing, in turn, Gonzalez v. Crosby, 545 U.S. 524, 532 (2005))))).¹

So, because the current claims are successive, Price’s failure to first obtain authorization from the Fifth Circuit under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3) deprives the district court of jurisdiction to consider the current Section 2254 application. See, e.g., Leal Garcia, 573 F.3d at 219 (“AEDPA requires a prisoner to obtain authorization from the federal appellate court in his circuit before he may file a ‘second or successive’ petition for relief in federal district court. Without such authorization, the otherwise-cognizant district court has no jurisdiction to entertain a successive § 2254 petition.” (footnotes omitted)).

But, as this appears to be Price’s first successive federal habeas petition as to this state conviction, the Court should cure this want of jurisdiction by transferring this action to the Fifth Circuit for appropriate action. See 28 U.S.C. § 1631.

Recommendation

The Court should transfer Larry Darnell Price, Jr.’s successive application for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2254 to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit for appropriate action.

A copy of these findings, conclusions, and recommendation shall be served on all parties in the manner provided by law. Any party who objects to any part of these findings, conclusions, and recommendation must file specific written objections within 14 days after being served with a copy. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); FED. R. CIV. P. 72(b). In order to be specific, an objection must identify the specific finding or recommendation to which objection is made, state the basis for the objection, and specify the place in the magistrate judge’s findings, conclusions, and recommendation where the disputed determination is found. An objection that merely incorporates by reference or refers to the briefing before the magistrate judge is not specific. Failure to file specific written objections will bar the aggrieved party from appealing the factual findings and legal conclusions of the magistrate judge that are accepted or adopted by the district court, except upon grounds of plain error. See Douglass v.
